

BAC (Bank of America)

Q1 2025 - buy 0.4 sentiment

why: revenue up 6% and EPS of $0.90 beat estimates by ~9%; net income up double digits; solid start to the year

April 15, 2025

Q2 2025 - buy 0.6 sentiment

why: record NII 7 % up YoY, deposits up 8 straight quarters.

July 16, 2025

Q3 2025 - buy 0.7 sentiment

why: revenue up 11%, EPS up 31%, record NII and investment banking fees up 43%; strongest quarter of the year so highest sentiment

October 15, 2025

Q4 2025 - hold 0.1 sentiment

why: beat on both EPS and revenue but market reacted cautiously due to broader macro concerns, not company issues.

January 14, 2026

JPM (JPMorgan)

Q1 2025 - hold 0.1 sentiment

why: EPS beat but revenue was down vs prior year and Dimon warned economy is "facing considerable turbulence" so cautious.

April 11, 2025

Q3 2025 - buy 0.4 sentiment

why: EPS and revenue beat, investment banking fees up 16%; strong quarter overall

October 14, 2025

Q1 2026 - buy 0.5 sentiment

why: EPS beat big, revenue up 10%, record markets revenue, NI 13 % up YoY.

April 14, 2026

WMT (Walmart)

Q1 2025 - sell -0.3 sentiment

why: specific Q2 guidance due to tariff uncertainty, calling near-term outcomes "exceedingly wide and difficult to predict" that lack of clarity drove the sell

May 15, 2025

Q2 2025 - buy 0.4 sentiment

why: beat expectations and raised full-year guidance, spending consistency despite the tariff cost pressure

August 21, 2025

Q3 2025 - buy 0.5 sentiment

why: strong beat, e-commerce up 27%, raised full-year outlook again; one of the stronger quarters
November 20, 2025

Q4 2025 - buy 0.7 sentiment

why: beat on EPS and revenue, holiday quarter sales up nearly 6%; strong close to the fiscal year
February 19, 2026

Q1 2026 - sell -0.5 sentiment

why: revenue missed forecast for the first time since 2020, operating income hurt by higher fuel costs.
May 21, 2026

UBER

Q1 2025 - sell -0.3 sentiment

why: big EPS beat but revenue and gross bookings came in slightly below forecast.
May 7, 2025

Q2 2025 - buy 0.4 sentiment

why: revenue beat, up 18% YoY, and a new $20B buyback authorized, solid quarter
August 6, 2025

Q4 2025 - buy 0.5 sentiment

why: revenue and gross bookings beat, record cash flow, and adjusted EBITDA 35 % up YoY.
February 4, 2026

Q1 2026 - buy 0.3 sentiment

why: EPS beat but revenue missed slightly; still strong gross bookings growth (+21%) and margin expansion kept the sentiment positive but not as strong
May 6, 2026

PFE (Pfizer)

Q1 2025 - sell -0.3 sentiment

why: revenue missed estimates and declined YoY, looming pharma tariff uncertainty added to the caution
April 29, 2025

Q2 2025 - buy 0.4 sentiment

why: revenue up 10%, EPS up 31%, and full-year EPS guidance raised; strong beat across the board
August 5, 2025

Q4 2025 - sell -0.6 sentiment

why: revenue down YoY on declining COVID product sales, and reaffirmed 2026 guidance was flat/underwhelming.
February 3, 2026

Q1 2026 - buy 0.7 sentiment

why: revenue and EPS both beat, growth from newer/acquired products offset the ongoing COVID decline, and 2026 guidance was reaffirmed
May 5, 2026

MSFT (Microsoft)

Q1 2025 - hold 0.1 sentiment

why: strong headline beat (revenue +13%, EPS +18%) but gross margin percentage declined due to heavy AI infrastructure spending.

April 30, 2025

Q2 2025 - sell -0.6 sentiment

why: another strong beat (revenue +18%, EPS +24%, Azure +34%) but elevated AI capex continued to be a concern on investor sentiment regardless of the numbers

July 30, 2025

Q1 2026 - sell -0.4 sentiment

why: Azure growth still strong but capex concerns and questions about return on AI investment kept weighing on sentiment despite the beat

April 29, 2026

F (Ford)

Q2 2025 - hold -0.1 sentiment

why: record revenue and EPS beat, but an $800M tariff hit wiped out net profit, causing Ford's first quarterly loss since 2023

July 30, 2025

Q4 2025 - hold 0.2 sentiment

why: EPS missed due to an unexpected tariff-related charge, but revenue beat and 2026 guidance was raised, balancing out the miss

February 10, 2026

Q1 2026 - sell -0.3 sentiment

why: headline EPS beat was largely driven by a one-time $1.3B tariff refund rather than organic strength; free cash flow was negative and EV losses/falling sales volumes remained a concern

April 29, 2026

BCS (Barclays)

Q2 2025 - buy 0.4 sentiment

why: profit beat estimates by a wide margin and guidance was raised, but the stock barely moved since good news was already expected.

July 29, 2025

Q3 2025 - buy 0.3 sentiment

why: income up 9-11%, £500M share buyback announced, and confident tone from management on the earnings call

October 22, 2025

Q1 2026 - hold 0.1 sentiment

why: solid income growth (+6%), EPS up 8%, and cost-to-income ratio improved to 56%

April 30, 2026
